

The Los Angeles Central Library

The Richard J. Riordan Central Library is one of the treasures of Los Angeles. Built in 1926, it was saved from demolition in the 1970s, then damaged in 1986 by one of the worst fires in Los Angeles history. It has been renovated and restored and more than doubled in size. It is the third largest Library in the United States containing over 2.5 million items.

In this presentation, we will learn about the history, art, architecture, gardens and collections of the Library, including news footage of the 1986 fire and its aftermath. We'll also learn about two exciting events at the Library in 2019.

Please join us for this very interesting program. You will come away with much greater appreciation for all the wonderful treasures we have right here in Los Angeles.
